Liberation of Europe Begins

The historic news flash, "First Allied landings in Western Europe have started," sent over the teletypes of the Overseas Branch of the Office of War Information, at 3:43 a.m., Tuesday, June 6, was part of the second, or actual combat phase of psychological warfare being waged directly under Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Forces. The first phase of psychological warfare was the strategic or preparatory phase—the softening-up-during which the Americans and the British bombarded the enemy and occupied countries with leaflets designed to undermine enemy morale and bolster the morale of the enslaved peoples. Germany, France, Belgium, Holland and Norway have been receiving miniature newspapers with a combined circulation of almost 16 million. Part of the present combat phase will be carried on by Psychological Warfare Branch combat teams who will be equipped with portable printing presses and radio equipment to keep the local population in liberated areas informed as to the progress of the war and to give in the local language the regulations of the military command.

Point-free Shoes

Limited quantities of "odd-lot" shoes may be sold to consumers ration free at specified price reductions during the three-week period from July 10 through July 20, Dr. Bright announced.

Men's and women's shoes of all sizes, and youths' and boys' sizes 1 to 6 (shoes worn by boys beginning at about seven years of age), are included in the release. Children's and misses' and little boys' shoes will not be affected, since these shoes were temporarily rationed free during the first three weeks of May.

Dr. Bright said OPA took this action to help dispose of the normal accumulation of broken sizes and other odds and ends which are usually sold at reduced prices but which, under rationing, need to be declared stamp free if stocks are to be cleared.

There is no bigger liar in the world than the Jap.

Major Phelan has served in various places in the Pacific theater of operations and participated in the landing at Bougainville.

Pfc. Carl Newbern Word has been received recently from Pfc. Carl Newbern, son of Mrs. L. C. Newbern of Oceana, that he is somewhere in France.

Pfc. Newbern joined the Army in October 1941, was stationed at Camp Lee for a short time and then transferred to Camp Croft, S. C. In August 1942 he was sent to England. He was the first invasion in North Africa. On March 31 he was reported wounded in action in North Africa and was later awarded the Purple Heart. In July 1943 he participated in the invasion in Sicily and was slightly wounded again. He arrived back in England in November 1943.

4-H Club Goes All Out in War Bond Effort

The Four-H Clubs of America, 1,700,000 strong, are making a vital contribution to the war program helping in the gigantic problem of keeping the food supply line strong and in buying War Bonds. Here are some scenes of 4-H boys and girls at their war work. No. 1 shows Glenn Whittenberg, of Hidalgo County, Texas, with his fine litter which will help the food supply. Glenn is putting his profits in War Bonds. No. 2 shows an ambulance purchased by the 37,000 members of the 4-H Club members of Virginia. Representing the Virginia Clubs in the picture is Carolyn Steele, Fairview, and Richard Fleming, of Bransville. Major Bernard Sobol, USA, is accepting the ambulance, with Director M. L. Wilson of the Extension Service Department of Agriculture, looking on. No. 3 shows Billy Fleming of Fairfax County, Virginia, helping Dad with the chores. Billy is putting his earnings into War Bonds. 4-H Club members own 90,000 head of dairy cattle. No. 4-4-H Clubs make a mighty contribution to the poultry and egg supply, raising 9 million chickens in 1943. Here is Helen Wheeling, Brown County, South Dakota, with a couple of her birds. She also buys War Bonds with her profits. No. 4-4-H Clubbers are also Victory Gardeners. Here is Jane Budder of Frederick County, Maryland, in her garden. These farm youngsters raised 5 million bushels of garden produce last year. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before.

INFANT SANITARIUM NETS OVER $870 IN ANNUAL 'BOX DAY' DRIVE

Babies Enjoy Usual Outing At Ocean Park For the Day

The annual drive for funds to carry on the work of the Infant Sanitarium met with unusual success on July 4 when young ladies solicited the passers by and asked for contributions to be dropped in the boxes. Since the Sanitarium was organized 56 years ago it has been the custom to set aside July 4 as its day on the Beach. In days gone by, but well remembered by many Beach residents, it was customary to hold a dance in the morning in the Casino at Laskin Road and Atlantic. At this time balloons were sold to raise funds. When the dance was discontinued the balloons were sold on the street and board walk. War again made a change in plans, but not in the spirit behind the work. Boxes replaced the balloons as rubber went to war. This year the generosity of visitors and residents of the Beach gave a total of over $870, that this most worthwhile work might be carried on.

Mrs. Joseph D. Deal, of Norfolk,

Wickersham, Head Of N. S. Bus Company, Retires

Lloyd B. Wickersham, president of the Norfolk Southern Bus Terminal, vice president and general manager of the Norfolk Southern Bus Corporation, general superintendent of the electric lines of the Norfolk Southern Railway Company and vice president of the Princess Anne Power Company, has retired from active service.

Mr. Wickersham has been with the Norfolk Southern since 1917. His great contribution to the development of the road was the bus lines, his pet project. It was through him that the Virginia Beach bus station and the Union Bus Terminal in Plume st. was built.

Some time ago he suffered a general breakdown but returned to duty after a long spell at Leigh Memorial Hospital. His health, however, would not permit too great activity, so he finally decided to take a rest at his home on 54th and Holly Road.

In the meantime E. M. Fletcher has been acting as superintendent of the bus and electric lines.

Forest fires in Dismal Swamp, near Back Bay in Princess Anne County and a mile and a half south-east of Deep Creek, were believed to be under control, according to Chief Forester T. S. Turner, of the Tidewater district.

He said the Princess Anne fire was practically extinguished and the blaze in the Deep Creek section was being held back by a force of ten men armed with packs equipped with a pump and each carrying five gallons of water.

The fire got over the line early Tuesday, but was thrown back by the hard work of the crew, Turner stated. He said the firefighters had been hard pressed for a few hours.

This fire had proved to be more serious and of greater proportions than early reports indicated. Turnville said it already has spread over 200 acres. He did not believe, however, there is any danger of it getting out of control.

The swamp fire is being held in check and although it already has destroyed everything growing on approximately 800 acres it has not reached that part of the Dismal where valuable timber is standing. Turner said most of the acreages swept by the flames consisted of underbrush, peat moss and reed. Burned had been cut from the timber section about four or five years ago.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT LACKING IN LOCAL JULY FOURTH CROWDS

Post Office Changes Now In Effect

Roy Jackson Postal Inspector; James R. Wood Returns to Old Position

Effective June 30, Assistant Postmaster Roy Jackson was transferred from the Virginia Beach Post Office to the post of Post Office Inspector, coming under the Washington Division. Mr. Jackson's territory will cover parts of Washington, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina.

For many years Mr. Jackson served as postal clerk and upon the death of Mr. Barco in April 1940 received the appointment of Assistant Postmaster, which position he occupied until the recent transfer. There has been no appointment to fill the vacancy caused by this transfer.

James R. Wood Returns to Post Office

James R. Wood, formerly in the Money Order Department of the Virginia Beach Post Office, has returned and will again be employed in this department. In October, 1942, "Woody" resigned his government job to enlist in the armed forces. He saw considerable action in the African theater and has recently received a medical discharge from the active service which enables him to take up once more the duties in the money order department of the local post office. He will assume these duties within the next few weeks.

New Building To House ABC Board

Richmond, Va. — On the eve of the day when all items in ABC stores other than whisky will become ration free, members of the ABC Board announced the purchase of the 10-story Grace-American Building on the northeast corner of Fourth and Grace Streets for a price of $275,000. The newly acquired office building will house the ABC offices by January 1st when the lease on office space on eight different floors of the Central National Bank Building will expire, and it is estimated that not only will the present rentals now paid by the Board completely pay for the new building within 10 years, but that in addition some $9,000 a year in rentals can be saved annually.

"Bad" Water Rumor Has Deided Effect on Places of Amusement and Some Hotels

With war clouds on the horizon and Admiral LeBreton's "out of bounds" order on the mainland Virginia Beach enjoyed a safe, sane and, for the most part, a sober holiday. Hotels and boarding houses reported capacity crowds and the beach was well filled with bathers, while pleasure-seekers thronged the board walk and various amusements. Yet the holiday spirit of years gone by was lacking. There was a noticeable shortage of men in uniform as the ban of Admiral LeBreton restricted the servicemen as far as Virginia Beach was concerned. Camp Pendleton, Fort Story and the Cavalier School are "hoor" to certain men in the service and these men were allowed the privilege of the beach.

The USO whose staff had planned for a rush holiday entertained only the few from local camps who were able to avail themselves of the opportunity.

Fearful of the congestion in transportation many visitors returned to their homes on early buses. Each bus seemed filled to capacity but the old steam train, which annually heralds in the day with picnic crowds, was not brought out.

Patriotic persons who possessed American flags displayed them and cooling breezes and gentle sun favored all who were able to take advantage of a holiday which to some meant only another day of work and to many millions of others the horrors of war and bloodshed.

Volley Ball League Organized With 4 Teams, 12 Games

A Volley Ball League has been organized under the direction of Charles P. Gay, Jr. of the Pinewood Hotel. This League is composed of teams from the Pinewood, the Greenwood, Gay Manor and the V.B.P. Life Guards. Twelve games are scheduled to be played during the months of July and August. Each team will play four games, two on its own court and the other two on the opponent's court. A continuous record of winners and losers will be kept and the two top teams will meet in the championship series with the winner of a 4 out of possible 7 games being declared champions of Virginia Beach.

Each team selects a captain who will represent his team on the League Council. Rules and regulations have been written and approved by this Council. Impartial referees for each game will be selected by the council.

The Virginia Beach Volley Ball League is open to any one interested in organizing a team. Mr. Gay, Jr. may be reached by calling Virginia Beach 296 and arrangements may be made to enter the competition. Schedules are being made so it is necessary to act immediately.

In 1942 there was a league with 8 teams. At the close of the season the Greenwood Hotel won the championship of the League and holds the trophy. A similar trophy will be awarded the winning team of the 1944 season.

New Surface Drain Near Completion

Merchants and shoppers on 17th street can at last pack up their boots and row boats. For the past 15 or 20 years there has been the dire need of a drain to carry off surplus water on 17th street near the railroad tracks. Said surface drain near completion and the "News" takes great pleasure in thanking the City Fathers for this long hoped for improvement. To Jimmy Kontapagos goes a great deal of credit for his efforts in securing the final action on this much needed bit of work.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

Segregated Contamination

It is indeed a strange phenomenon, a freak of nature or favoritism of Divine Providence when, according to reports in the Richmond and Norfolk newspapers, water taken from the same reservoir and delivered to one section of God's land is pure as Elysium springs and that which is piped to a nearby community is so contaminated that military authority condemns the locality and issues an "out-of-bounds" order. Last season both Camp Pendleton and Fort Story were filled to capacity, while this year the only appreciable increase in personnel is at the Oceana Air Field and at Dam Neck with a limited number at Pendleton and Story, and no like edict was issued.

Granted that the water supply at Virginia Beach has at times been a bit low, state and local authorities have always been extra cautious in examination and re-chlorination before the water is supplied to the beach residents in order to safeguard the health of the Community. It is most unfortunate that these articles were so worded as to imply that the water was contaminated to such a "dangerous" extent that military personnel were forced to spend the holiday in Norfolk and other places than at the true vacation spot, Virginia Beach.

NO RATIONING OF FREEDOM

by Ruth Taylor

There are so many definitions for freedom. It is what you call an alluring word — because it means all things to all people.

Ask the small boy on a spring day and he'll answer you promptly, "No school and the fish biting." Ask the speculator, he'll say, "No restrictions — and a quick market." Ask the dictator and he'll say, "A fat neighbor who will not struggle against my divine right to take what I want."

Ask the pioneers and he will say, "Uncluttered horizons and a chance to make my own way." Ask the idealist and he will say, "A new world where all may share of the bounties of earth." Ask the religious man and he will say, "A life in which I may worship my God according to my own conscience and obey His holy laws."

Why are there so many definitions? Because freedom is not a static thing. It is not a rule but a way of life. It is an obligation. It is determined by our relationship to other people. Only the hermit can be free alone. Freedom in a civilized community is the way of life that demands intelligent followers.

Freedom does not include the right to carry poison, to talk against our neighbor, to judge him by his ancestors or his kindred. Only by his companions, may we ever condemn him. Freedom carries with it a belief in the dignity and sacredness of every human being. "For all — Jew and Gentile, White and Negro, rich and poor — there should be unrationed brotherhood," is the slogan of one free community. Freedom must demonstrate to the world that a diversity of culture strengthens our nation, fed with fresh water the springs of national life.

Freedom is justice and we must remember that in a court of justice a man is honest until proven otherwise. Judgment is not passed on what others have done. Judge not thy neighbors by others. There are good and bad in every creed and more good than bad.

One man's freedom is another man's freedom — whether it be in America, in China, in Norway or in darkest Africa. No man is really free unless all men are free. No man's home is safe unless all men's homes are safe. What is freedom to you? Think it over carefully and then apply it to your fellow men, to your brother. It must fit you both, or it is not freedom.

HEALTH

NOW, WE'RE OFF

J. E. Jones

Washington, D. C., July — Republican enthusiasm ran high in the National Capital during Convention week. Ex-President Hoover's statement that younger men must take over responsibility and his own personal reference that "I represent the generation of our fathers" stirred a lot of political discussion at the Capital, with amazing agreements that a lot of our old-timers who believe themselves "indispensable" should be replaced by younger men.

Now, we're off again. The best obtainable information indicates that the chances of winning the coming election is about even — 50-50 — between the two old line parties.

BEHIND THE BATTLEFRONTS

OUR ALLY, THE CHINESE

Chinese Independence Day is July 7th, and as we revere our own day of Independence, considering it the groundwork for the nation that we have become and hope to be, so does China, celebrate her holiday. It comes as good news that a way has been opened for us to supply planes for operations in China.

Now we can increase our combat force at the end of the line, and this is good news to every American who has long felt the Japanese menace. The Chinese have been pointed out as a race that has much to teach us in the way of civilization. Patience is an attribute not to be overlooked.

The Chinese have lessons to give us in the field of cookery. They can offer suggestions for nutritious meals, combined flavors that are unusual but delicious. Food experts tell us to preserve vitamins we should cook vegetables in a little water as possible. The Chinese used this method always. They have the advantage of water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, dried rice, but so do we have shrimp, lettuce, chicken, eggs. They use crabmeat, mustard greens, lobster, pork and good old string beans. So can we. Lin Yutang, whose books some of our "News" readers know, quoted an ancient Chinese poet who likened cooking to matrimony, "a matching and blending of the tastes." Mr. Lin himself, suggests, "let meat and vegetables be combined and married." Yes, we have much to learn from China, stretching ration points is one of them.

French Urged to Join Fight

In a broadcast to France from Algiers, French patriots were called on to hamper German communications and to "make every German feel insecure on French soil," as reported by the Federal Communications Commission. The French forces of the interior were urged to carry out orders of their superior officers or to do anything rather than to be put out of action without fighting.

Restrict Taxis in Copenhagen

Because Danish patriots frequently used taxicabs to carry out sabotage against the Nazis in the Copenhagen area, all use of cabs in that area was "prohibited in principle," according to a Danish broadcast reported by U. S. Government monitors.

Nazis Ban Traffic in France

The Nazis have banned all motor traffic in areas of south central France with a warning that "any motor vehicle or motorcycle found on the road will be fired at without warning," according to a broadcast reported by U. S. Government monitors.

The War—And the Home Front

Washington, D. C., June—The American public stands united in the expectation and belief that Germany will be completely defeated within the next few weeks.

There is no reason to call that "optimism," because the facts all point that way. President Roosevelt told a press conference that "the Germans have 'three backs' to the wall." That's it!

READING & WRITING

By Edwin Sauer and Robin McKinnon

Thomas Mann's latest novel, "Joseph the Provider," the July Book-of-the-Month Club selection, marks the end of a monumental undertaking by this celebrated author.

THOMAS MANN

Back in 1926, an artist in Munich, where Mann was then living, asked him to write an introduction to a portfolio of illustrations depicting the story of Joseph, the son of Jacob. He looked up the story in an old family Bible, and experienced what he describes as "an indescribable fascination" towards his subject. Subsequently Mann made archaeological excursions to Egypt and Palestine, revisiting the places where the story of Joseph is located. As a result of his researches and meditations, he wrote "Joseph and His Brothers," "Young Joseph," "Joseph in Egypt," and now the last of this great tetralogy, "Joseph the Provider."

"Joseph the Provider" begins when Joseph is a slave in the Pharaoh's palace, up until he becomes the ruler of economic life of Egypt, second only to the Pharaoh himself. Mr. Mann also retells here the biblical story of how Joseph's brothers came down into Egypt, and how Joseph finally revealed himself to them in one of the most famous recognition scenes in literature. "This is probably one of the lasting novels of our decade," says Dr. Henry Seidel Canby, in the Book-of-the-Month Club News.

Thomas Mann's first great literary success was "Buddenbrooks," published when the author was twenty-nine. It's said that his publishers balked at receiving this huge and unwieldy manuscript by an obscure young author. Cut it in half, they urged. Mann refused. Eventually they yielded and published it in two expensive volumes. At first the book seemed doomed to failure. Critics resented its size; the public resented its price. But after the first edition of a thousand was sold out, the publisher re-issued it in a cheaper volume. It began to sell, and the young author was snatched up in a whirlwind of success. Until it was burned and banned by Hitler, "Buddenbrooks" sold over a million copies in Germany alone; it has been translated into almost every modern language.

After Mann's first open attack on the Nazis, in 1936, he was deprived of German citizenship. In reply he wrote a scorching denunciation of fascism published all over the non-fascist world, "An Exchange of Letters." In 1938 Thomas Mann came to the United States, and three years ago he built a permanent home in Santa Monica, California, where he still carries on a strict routine of work, spending his mornings in creative writing, and his afternoons in correspondence. He will soon become an American citizen.

FOOD RATIONING IN UNITED KINGDOM, CANADA AND U. S.

Sugar, bacon, ham and butter were the foods with which the United Kingdom started food rationing January 8, 1940. Two years later, Canada, on a voluntary basis, and the United States, through the coupon system, introduced their food rationing programs with sugar, according to a report compiled by the Canadian Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Many foods in the United Kingdom have been placed under priority distribution. Priority consumers include invalids, infants, children and nursing and expectant mothers. Priority distribution foods include shell and dried eggs, fluid and dried milk, oranges, vitamin tablets, cod liver oil and fruit juices. In the case of eggs, for example, non-priority consumers receive from two to five each month, depending on the available supply, while priority users receive three eggs a week.

Meat Rationing at Present. Each week, four ounces of bacon or ham are allowed to be eaten in the U. K., and an estimated 23 cents worth of other meats to adults and approximately 12 cents worth to children. In Canada, meat rationing was temporarily suspended, March 1, 1944. In the United States, all meats except beef roast and steaks were temporarily removed from rationing May 3, 1944.

In the United Kingdom, at present canned meat, fish and fruit require the largest number of ration points among the processed foods, which also include breakfast cereals, biscuits, rice, sago and tapioca. In the United States, many processed foods temporarily removed from rationing include frozen foods, dried prunes and canned peas, corn, beans and tomatoes.

Rationing Through Canadian Retailers

There is no consumer rationing of canned vegetables in Canada, but distribution of the canned products is rigidly controlled through allocations to retailers. It is then up to the retailers to distribute the supplies among their customers. Normally, the average consumption of canned vegetables in Canada is low, and an equal per capita ration throughout the country would mean an inadequate supply in regions where persons customarily use canned vegetables as a regular part of their diet.

The U. S. permits up to 20 pounds of home canned sugar per person this year and an extra five pounds that must be purchased before Mar.

1, 1946. Canada during the summer allows 10 pounds of canning sugar to each person and, in addition, the regular preserve coupons — two to a person per month for jams, jellies, canned fruits, etc. — are exchangeable each for one-half pound of sugar. In Canada and the U. S. regular sugar coupons are good for one-half pound a person each week. In the United Kingdom sugar stamps are good for three pounds of sugar or six pounds of preserves per person every four weeks.

Among the three countries, only the United Kingdom rationed candy, chocolates and chewing gum — at the rate of three ounces per week a person.

Home-made Brooder ELECTRIC brooders rapidly are proving their worth and gaining converts. They have been labor-savers on thousands of farms where every possible short-cut has had to be used.

With commercial equipment often difficult to obtain, many farmers are building their own. The drawing below shows one type of home-made brooder that is efficient, yet easy to build. It can be heated by reflector-type food lamps, heat lamps or drying lamps. Even ordinary light bulbs give good service.

This flat brooder is insulated by three or four inches of litter piled on the top, which holds the heat under the cover, removes the problem of keeping the top clean, and adds floor space to the brooding unit. Asbestos cement board is a good material to use in building this type of brooder, because it comes in panels of a convenient size which are easy to handle, and it is extremely durable.

HAVE YOU A

OF YOUR ELECTRIC BILL?

MANY folks don't. They're as far from the real facts as this photo in an amusement park mirror!

Proof? In a nation-wide survey, 42% of the people sharply overestimated the amount of their last electric bill. 59% didn't realize that rates had been reduced in the last fifteen years—and 95% didn't realize how much!

Actually, the average American family gets about twice as much electricity today as it did fifteen years ago for the same money.

"For the same money." That's the clue. You don't realize that rates are down, because your bill may be as much as it was fifteen years ago—or perhaps even more. But you have more electric appliances now. You're using more electricity—and you get about twice as much for what you pay.

Theatre Prevues

The first performance of the day on Friday, July 7 at the Bayne Theatre will be the Bond Premier at 3:00 P.M. to 5:00 P.M. This will be the one showing of "YANKEE DOODLE DANDY" starring James Cagney. The only admission to this performance will be by a receipt or card showing the purchase of a 5th War Loan Bond. The regular show will not start until 6:00 P.M. at which time the feature will be "MAKE YOUR OWN BED," a hilarious comedy starring Jack Carson, Jane Wyman, Irene Manning and Alan Hale.

In the matter of plot, the film is of the genus mad and merry, being concerned with the efforts of the Whirlie household to find a pair of domestics for their suburban home. What they find instead is an energetic, if not quite capable, detective who takes employment with them on behalf of himself and his fiancée. What follows is general chaos — plus the accidental capture of some sinister Nazi agents.

This feature will continue on Saturday, July 8.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Ginger Rogers, Ray Milland, Warner Baxter and Jon Hall will be starred in "LADY IN THE DARK." This romantic technicolor film tells the story of a swanky magazine whose nerves have suddenly gotten out of control.

The plot of "Lady in the Dark" develops in good part in a psychoanalyst's office where Liza reveals her dreams and subconscious thoughts, thereby tracing the causes of her unhappiness. The dreams are an integral part of the story and their conception and execution on the screen represent the very finest in motion picture technique and entertainment.

Wednesday and Thursday "TWO GIRLS AND A SAILOR" will be the offering. Van Johnson, Jane Allison, Gloria De Haven and Jimmy Durante will play in the lead roles. The picture is an outstanding blending of music, comedy and romance.

At the Roland Theatre on Friday and Saturday "SLIGHTLY TERRIFIC" will be the feature attraction. Leon Errol, Anne Rooney, Eddie Quillan and Betty Kean are co-starred. A diverting comedy production with several sprightly tunes. Also Richard Dix in "CHEROKEE STRIP" Sunday and Monday "HERK PRIMITIVE MAN" starring Louise Allbritton, Robert Paige, Robert Benchley and Edward Everett Horton will be the feature. An infectious comedy romance.

A double feature will be seen on

Health Notes

SNAKE-BITE

"The rattlesnake, the copperhead, and the cotton-mouth moccasin perhaps are the most poisonous snakes found in Virginia. The two former are to be found in the mountainous areas, while the latter is more likely to frequent streams, swamps and marshlands. Woodsmen and field workers are well acquainted with the appearance of these various reptiles, and are on the alert to protect themselves against the possibility of being bitten. It would be prudent for the urban dweller seeking recreation in field, woods or stream to realize this potential hazard and take due precautions against it," states Dr. I. C. Riggins, State Health Commissioner.

"Of course, there is no need for anyone seeking pleasure away from habitations to develop an undue fear of snakes. In the first place, poisonous snakes are not as numerous as many people believe. In the second place, reasonable prudence plus proper clothing usually will be all the protection required.

"On the other hand, properly to realize the snake-bite possibility by wearing high-top shoes or boots in timberland and forests, by being very careful around stone, rock and woodpiles close or remote from human habitation, and being cautious when crossing logs or using old or even established mountain trails,

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The men overseas don't mine any words about the way they want to find this country when they come marching home... do they, Judge?"

"They certainly don't, Herb... and they shouldn't. They're doing a masterful job fighting over there to protect our rights and they have good license to expect us to protect their back here at home. One thing they're mighty clear on is their stand on prohibition."

"Their position on that subject was stated very emphatically in a poll taken recently merely is to take logical note of the likelihood of lurking danger.

"First-aid should be applied if the victim is far from medical assistance or anti-venom is not available. This procedure consists of cross-cutting through the skin at the site of the bite and applying a tourniquet above the bite if it is on an extremity. It is safe to suck the incision with the mouth to remove venom if the mouth is in a healthy state and there are no sores or raw areas on the gums where poison might be absorbed.

"Every effort should then be made to get the victim to a doctor at the least possible moment, though it is much better for the patient to walk slowly than to run as increased physical activity steps up the circulation of the blood and thus spreads the venom faster.

"Incidentally, young men and women working in fields and forests, as part of the current war effort, would do well to realize the snake-bite hazard, and govern themselves accordingly."

TASTY TIPS

VANILLA gives its best flavor to cakes and cookies if added to the fat when it is creamed. Combined with and held in by the fat, the flavoring extract will give a more lasting and a more even flavor.

DUCKLING dinners are delicious. Select a bird that has a broad and pliable breast, with fat evenly distributed beneath the skin and flesh firm and free from bruises. Roast or braise it. Serve with applesauce or fried apples.

For a TOSSED SALAD all the vegetables should be clean, cold, crisp and dry before they are mixed. Use vegetables that give an appetizing and colorful combination, but not too many of those with conflicting flavors.

Buy BEETS while the TOPS are still tender enough to use. Beet tops are rich in iron and contain valuable vitamins.

It's not too late to plant that Victory Garden, which may be very important to you before the year ends.

Fertilizer Does Not Take Place of Manure

Blackburg — Commercial fertilizer cannot take the place of manure in managing a garden, says L. B. Dietrick, Extension vegetable gardening specialist at V.P.I.

Of course, plant food in the form of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash can be purchased more cheaply in the form of commercial fertilizer than manure. Manure does contain a good amount of this plant food—but the chief reason for applying manure is not for its value as a source of plant food.

Manure should be used primarily as a soil conditioner, Dietrick explains. It increases the organic or humus content of the soil—which actually improves the physical condition, increases the moisture holding capacity, and, in addition, adds some plant food.

Invasion Cuts Civilian Supplies

Recent shortage of many civilian supplies may be attributed to military demands of the forces of liberation. Examples are radio tubes and parts, gasoline and oil. In spite of a radio manufacturing output over 10 times as great as pre-war, military demands for radio tubes and repair parts have increased. This explains why civilians are finding it hard to get these items, the War Production Board says. Every military plane has radio equipment, some as much as $100,000 worth each. Ships, tanks and other mobile equipment also use radio equipment. A five-month supply of 100-octane aviation gasoline is required for each of the 11,000 planes backing up Allied liberation forces, the Petroleum Administration for War reports. Heavy and imperative demands for oil by General Eisenhower as early as last winter almost made New York, Boston and Philadelphia the first indirect invasion casualties. Increased production by East Coast refineries, the "Big Inch," and "Little Big Inch" pipelines, and emergency deliveries helped avert civilian shortages of oil and gas in the East.

Formerly wars were given high-sounding names such as the War of the Roses. Modern war doesn't carry that kind of aroma.

Fire Damages Bowling Alley

Newly Equipped Truck With Auxiliary Water Tank Responsible for Control of Blaze

A fire was discovered in the southeast corner of the bowling alleys on Atlantic near 15th Street at 1:58 A. M. Monday. The night watchman across the street and several passers-by discovered the blaze and immediately turned in the alarm. The bowling alley concession is owned and operated by Pat Mercer and the building belongs to C. E. Whitehead. The blaze is thought to have been started from faulty electrical connection which had given some trouble earlier in the day and which was thought to be remedied.

New Truck Very Efficient

The Virginia Beach Fire Department answered the call with all available equipment and within 30 minutes had extinguished the flame which had been confined to the area in which the fire was first discovered.

Several months ago, the Town purchased from the army a truck. This truck was equipped by the Fire Department with an auxiliary water tank with a 600 gallon capacity. It was this truck and tank which saved the building, being able to function immediately while other equipment was being hooked up to local pumps.

This newly equipped part of the fire fighting apparatus of the Beach should prove invaluable in fighting fires which are beyond the reach of the city water supply.

Lt. Dickson On First American Shuttle Mission

15th A. A. IN ITALY — First Lieutenant Charles T. Dickson, 27 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Dickson of Holly Road, is a pilot on an AAF Flying Fortress of the 15th Air Force. He has completed fifty combat missions and has been awarded the Air Medal with nine bronze Oak Leaf Clusters. Lt. Dickson attended Maury High School and William and Mary College, Norfolk. Prior to entering the army he was employed by the U. S. Engineers at Fort Story. Lt. Dickson participated in the first American shuttle mission to Russia.

First American Shuttle Mission to Russia

A task force of flying and ground personnel from the 15th Air Force recently returned from a ten day stay at an American base in Russia. The historic visit of the American airmen marks the first shuttle mission to the Soviet.

Leaving their Italian bases on June 2, the B-17 Flying Fortresses attacked a railroad yard and junction at Debrecen, Hungary, and then continued on to an undisclosed American base in Russia. Operating from the Soviet Union, the American Fortresses and their Mustang fighter escort attacked an airbase near Galatz, Rumania. On June 11 they attacked the airfield at Focșani, near Budapest, on their return to Italy.

Even more important than the three successful missions was the close understanding between the two allied nations made possible by the coordinated operations in Russia when typical Americans met and worked with typical Russians. Pilots compared tactical notes and discussed performance of air planes, ground crews exchanged servicing suggestions, while Lt. General Ira C. Eaker, commanding general of the Mediterranean Allied Air Force, and other AAF officials met with officers of the Russian Air Force.

CUPID WINS AT SEASIDE PARK

Joseph Cimino, operator of one of the concessions at Seaside Park, and Miss Terese Roche were married at the Town Hall on Monday, July 10. Mr. and Mrs. Saul Wyman were the only attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Cimino will postpone their honeymoon until after when they will leave Virginia Beach to take up their residence in Florida.

Future Farmers Put Food Profits in Bonds

Throughout the nation the FFA boys are making a substantial contribution to the war effort through the production of the all-important food supply and purchase of War Bonds with their profits. Shown here are some instances. No. 1 shows Robert Hill of the Welcome Chapter FFA, North Carolina, with three of his eight registered dairy calves. North Carolina FFA boys owned 9,239 dairy cows and invested profits in War Bonds totalling $308,650. No. 2 shows two Wilson County, Tennessee, boys of the Green Gate Chapter at Lebanon repairing farm equipment. At an auction of this farm equipment, a total of $85,000 went into War Bonds. No. 3—Edward Jones of Pittsboro Chapter FFA, North Carolina, and some of his 455 high-producing victory hens. Edward made a net profit of $548.12 from his flock last year and is putting his profits in War Bonds. No. 4 shows Colin English, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Herbert Shuman, president Palmetto Chapter FFA, and Harrison E. Barringer, State Senator, all of Florida, at the high light of an annual Father-and-Son banquet. The Florida Future Farmers bought a $1,000 War Bond with the funds from their farm produce grown on their own class project. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before.

Cullen Players Give Creditable Performance In Opening Play

New York Stock Company Presents "Claudia" At Casino Park Before Large Crowd

Tuesday evening saw the opening of the new Playhouse at Casino Park. Frank Sheen, manager, presented the Cullen Players in "Claudia" to a select and enthusiastic audience.

This New York stock company is made up of a carefully selected group of professional actors who show by their first performance their capability to give the residents and visitors of the Beach the kind of entertainment which will be an enjoyable pastime.

Several of the cast have enjoyed star roles in New York productions. Michael Ames as "David Naughton" in Tuesday night's presentation, gave an excellent performance. Mr. Ames had the leading role in the New York company which presented "Storm Operation." Pauline Bagshaw, as "Claudia" handled her rather difficult role in a most capable manner, a role so easily overdone if not handled with great skill. Miss Bagshaw starred in "Romeo and Juliet" with Lawrence Oliver and Vivian Leigh.

The supporting members of the cast should all have honorable mention for very creditable performances in roles entirely different and executed in an individual manner. Hazel Kempf as "Madam Daruscha" received most enthusiastic applause for her character role. Miss Kempf, by the way, is Lt. Kempf in the Civilian Air Patrol in Roosevelt Squad in New York. "Bertha" was played by Edith Fiske who comes from the line of Fiskes long famous in the theatrical annals. Norman Porter, who played "Fritz" had the title role in a road company which played "The Man Who Came to Dinner." The dramatic role of "Mrs. Brown" played by Margery Dalton was a difficult role well handled. "Jerry Seymour" as played by Mel Roberts and Andry in the role of "Julia Naughton" made a well rounded cast and gave a thoroughly enjoyable performance.

Drama Next Week

The play schedule for the performance beginning July 18 will be on the dramatic note. This change of tempo will show the versatility of the cast, and their ability to handle various types of plays. "Night Must Fall" is the title of the forthcoming play. "Tonight Combined With Pleasure" The summer Playhouse housed

Southern States Co-Op To Meet

More than fifty women employees of Southern States Cooperative in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, and Delaware will gather in Richmond for a Southern States school to be held at the John Marshall Hotel July 18, 19, and 20, according to L. E. Raper, Director of Membership Relations, who is sponsoring the school.

The 3-day program will include a debate on the subject, "Resolved That the Cooperative Is Serving Its Members as Satisfactorily as Can Be Expected during Wartime." Among the other features of the program will be discussions, problem clinics, a skit, addresses, and recreation.

Milk Cans Now Available

Blacksburg, Va. — Rationing of milk cans was discontinued July 1, which means that farmers and dairies may purchase new cans for handling milk and milk products without obtaining purchase certificates from the county farm rationing committee, the State AAA Office announced.

The new milk can order provides for planned distribution of large cans by manufacturers and requires them to hold a specified number in reserve for emergencies, and prohibits the transfer of cans for uses other than the handling of milk or milk products except when authorized by the director of the Office of Materials and Facilities of the War Food Administration. The order does not eliminate control of manufacturers' distributions of any cans having capacities of 20, 32 and 40 quarts.

The AAA said that these measures are believed sufficient to assure orderly and equitable distribution. Materials have been allotted by the War Production Board in a tent at Casino Park proved most comfortable in every respect. The dampened cedar shavings on the floor were mosquito repellent and the possibility of raising the side flaps to admit the breeze made the room most pleasant. The acoustics are unusually good and all in all the Playhouse at Casino Park should afford a season of real enjoyment.

Service Men Allowed Back On The Beach

The "out-of-bounds" order issued on June 28, barring service personnel from Virginia Beach because of an acute water shortage, has been lifted and until further notice men in uniform from Norfolk and elsewhere may visit the Beach, and elsewhere to orders issued by Rear Adm. David LeBreton, commandant of the Fifth Naval District.

There should be no further trouble on the line as work is being rushed on the new 20 inch line to supplement the water flow of the line now in operation. Work is also now being rushed on the cross-town 30 inch pipeline connecting Moors Bridges pumping station, which now supplies the Virginia Beach line, and the 37th Street pumping station, which receives its supply from Norfolk's principal reservoir at Lake Prince.

With economical use of the water by all concerned there should be little necessity for reimposing the "out-of-bounds" restrictions.

Women Needed For Technicians In Medical Corps

Baltimore, Md. — One of the most important responsibilities of war, the rehabilitation of returned battle casualties, has created an urgent need for 22,000 women immediately to serve as medical technicians in Army hospitals throughout the country, Major General Norman T. Kirk, the Surgeon General, declared in a nationwide call. Openings in fourteen classifications of technicians, offer opportunities for training and experience in professions in which the field will be greatly enlarged in the post-war world.

Women between the ages of 20 and 49, with no dependents under 14, are eligible, provided they possess the necessary qualifications. Accepted candidates will be enlisted in the Women's Army Corps, given five weeks basic training at one of the WAC training centers, and will be assigned immediately to duty at an Army hospital. Under this procedure, applicants are assured of permanent assignment as medical technicians.

Complete information can be obtained directly from the officer Procurement Division, Room 1144, O'Sullivan Building, Baltimore, or through application at the nearest Women's Army Corps recruiting office.

Mr. F. S. Farrar was district agent for extension work in Southside, Virginia for 30 years before his death. When the 4-H Club members of Virginia were asked to name this liberty ship they were practically unanimous to call it the F. Southall Farrar.

The following is the biography of F. Southall Farrar presented at the launching by Gordon A. Elcan, State Boys' Club Agent, Virginia. I have the honor and privilege on this occasion to briefly sketch the life of a distinguished Virginian, F. Southall Farrar, in whose memory the 4-H Club members of Virginia have named this ship. Mr. Farrar was born on December 14, 1871, at Mohican, the family home in Amelia County, where he spent most of his life. He was educated in a private school and at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia. As a student he took part in many college activities, serving as quarterback on the football team, and as a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. The librarian of William and Mary has this to say about him: "Mr. Farrar was an excellent student and was beloved by all of his fellow students and by the faculty. Local residents often forget students who were in college fifty or more years ago, but the recollection of Mr. Farrar's personality is still alive among the older people at Williamsburg."

When the American Sergeant, landing on the Normandy coast, cried, "They can't stop us," he gave the home folk, too, a battery. Bought with the $37.50 purchase price of a $50 "E" bond, one Garand rifle can go overseas. The same amount will send approximately four 81 mm. mortar shells or one general purpose bomb or three gas masks.

Submarine Gun on Life Raft
The $75 price of a $100 "E" bond will buy approximately two submarine guns (Tommy guns) or one rubber life raft.

... and Some for Ammunition

The Government can buy a .50 caliber machine gun for delivery to the Army in Normandy or Italy for the $375 purchase price of a $500 "E" bond during the Fifth War Loan Drive. The gun costs $300 — and there'll be some money left over for ammunition. The same investment will provide a little more than needed to buy one walkie-talkie radio set or four droppable fuel tanks for planes. Will Help Fuel Weapons Rolling

The $750 purchase price of a $1,000 "E" bond in the Fifth War Loan Drive, June 12 to July 8, will help to keep the weapons of war rolling to the Army and Navy. That sum will send to the Army any of the following: approximately five small assault boats, six bomb boats, one cargo parachute, three 40-pounders, three motor scooters. For the Navy, the purchase price of one $1,000 "E" bond with 79 others will pay for one 60-foot air rescue boat. Forty-six purchases of $1,000 bonds will buy a landing barge, 37 an amphibious tractor, and 668 a sub-chaser.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

OUR COUNTRY — OF THESE WE SING

J. E. Jones Washington, D. C., July—The Republican party has made a plain and definite promise to the people that "full employment" shall be a first objective of national policy.

The Democratic spokesmen have long declared that full employment is a first objective of their national policies.

Governor Dewey, the Republican standard-bearer, criticized President Roosevelt's cabinet as "fired and quarrelsome," and he expressed the opinion that the Secretary of Labor does not possess the power of a Cabinet Officer.

Perhaps the reason that Miss Perkins has been criticized so gently is due to sympathy for the lady. Everyone knows that the policies of the Labor Department have been kept under control by the President for the last eleven years.

Be that as it may, the big labor unions have played politics when they should have been protecting the legitimate rights of labor. A review of the records shows that when collective bargaining failed there was the Wagner Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act, a Director of Economic Stabilization, a Defense Mediation Board, a War Labor Board, a "Little Steel" case, Administrator Lickes, an ad dozen more groups — all "beating the devil around the bush." If all these devices failed, then there was sure to be an "Executive Order" from the White House.

For eleven years the Congress of the United States has made different attempts to reorganize labor legislation in a way to protect workers and employers.

If the Republican party succeeds in making "full employment" the first objective of a national policy it will perform a great service to the workers, to industry, to all concerns that meet payrolls — and most of all to our country.

These objectives could be met by the Democratic party in case that political party should be in control of the Government after the war.

Incidentally, there is a resurgence in favor of the historic Democratic and Republican principles that the Government should be run by the people — which simply means following the Spirit of the Constitution. These are plans in the present campaign — only in the beginning — to capture favor of large groups of voters.

Maybe, out of the confusion of the campaign, national policies for the whole country may triumph over the scheming of greedy politicians.

OUR CAPITAL'S BIRTHDAY

The center of national activity is our capital, the seat of our government, located in the District of Columbia and called Washington. It was July 16, 1790 the Congress of the United States then in session in the city of Philadelphia, provided for a site of ten miles square on the banks of the Potomac. Our capital was so born and though the act named the capital there was a ten year delay in order to build the public offices and provide for living quarters. Although no money was voted for the project, Maryland and Virginia ceded the land that was chosen by George Washington for the spot, and they also gave the first funds to construct the buildings. Later the government retroceded the portion of the site given by Virginia. A Frenchman was the first one to plan the federal city but ran into difficulty by demolishing a private house that conflicted with his plans, and the job was then given to a surveyor named Ellicott. The first census of Washington's population was taken in 1800 and we find 14,093 persons lived. During the period in trying to build the White House there was confusion, discharges, alterations and no finances. At one time the state of Maryland held a lottery to come to the rescue with funds to go on. It was a long drawn out process and two wars interfered with its progress. Land occupied, finally totaled 58.8 acres, renovations added steam heating, elevators, fire-proofing, electric lights, modern drainage, light, heat and power plant, and wide landscaping of exterior has enhanced the beauty. This is the site of our law, the campus of governmental order. Happy birthday!

WHAT DO YOU KNOW FOR SURE?

By Ruth Taylor "Do you know it for sure? Remember that phrase from your childhood — and how important it was? It differentiated between the things we glibly said or repeated and those things which we knew from actual first hand knowledge.

I wish we needn't have let politeness cause us to drop the phrase as we grew up. I wish it were still possible to say "Do you know it for sure?" to those people who are so prompt and definite about every and all situations.

Yes — I admit it — I've been listening to the radio again. But I've also been reading columnists and modern essayists — and I've been listening to people talk on trains, in busses, in restaurants and homes! And it's been all I could do to keep from saying "Do you know it for sure?"

There are the people who knew all about when the war will be over, and what Eisenhower's plans are, and where the State Department is wrong and what is going to happen a week from next Tuesday. (The Gestapo smiles on them).

There are the people who know all the motives back of everyone's actions, who tell you glibly just what self-interest prompts each act, who must have X-ray minds, for they see what goes on before it happens. (Goebbels' friends they are).

There are the people who know all the bad news, who can and do talk of the cost of battles, the mistakes of commanders, the waste in lives, dollars and supplies, who can tell all the details of the chaos to follow. (Goering finds them useful).

There are the people who sow dissension by setting group against groups, exaggerating Labor's shortcomings, pouncing on Industry's misdeeds accusing the farmer of selfishness, stirring up racial and religious hatreds by rank generalizations, judging the group by the sins of apostate members, preaching anti-Catholicism wholesale. (Herr Hitler has a special decoration for these).

There are the people who talk too freely, who boast of how they "got around" regulations, who try to outwit the censor, who brag of "inside knowledge," who tell of production, troop movements, ship sailings, betraying their own for the chance of appearing smart. (The bells ring in Berlin over the deaths they cause).

To all of them — to you — myself — I say, "Do you know it for sure?"

THE CAMPAIGN

Now is the time for all good men and women to come to the aid of their country. Never mind which political party. Just follow the appeals, arguments and pledges they make to your country. There is no other duty more mandatory than that — for the people of this country — to understand the issues thoroughly. Don't take anything for granted. Who's telling you all this? Yours truly, A Fellow in Washington — who has watched the political games for over thirty years.

THOU SHALT NOT

Look where you will and you will find the Federal Government laying down new rules over every class of business from the conversion of oil-burning heating units, coal-burning units; and all-out in censoring bakery claims in advertising the virtues of their staff of life. Concerns claiming that they turn out a dry dog food are forbidden to claim that their products contain all the nutrition of meat. And woe unto the patent medicine man who has the nerve to tell the public that he has pills to cure constipation, remedies for rheumatism, arthritis, lumbago; or dope that is good for the glands, or for diathermy treatment.

U. S. Lend-Lease to Russia

The United States sent almost 2,000,000 tons of lend-lease supplies to the Soviet Union in the first four months of this year, or a total of 10,400,000 tons since the beginning of the Soviet aid program in October, 1941, the Foreign Economic Administration reports. Since 1941, shipments included 10,000 planes, 5,500 tanks and tank destroyers, 210,000 military trucks, 40,000 jeeps, more than 30,000 other military motor vehicles, 900,000 miles of field telephone wire and approximately 300,000 field telephones. Other items sent in quantity were army boots, food, railroad rails, steel and non-ferrous metals and alloys.

Yanks Aid Missionaries

American service men not only rescued a number of Dutch and other missionaries from the Japs at Hollandia, but also contributed more than $1,000 toward the rehabilitation of the missionaries who are now in Australia. Aneta, official Netherlands and Netherlands Indies News Agency recently announced.

Curfew Rule in Holland

Since the Allied invasion of France, persons in northeastern areas of occupied Holland are not allowed outdoors — not even in their own gardens, doorways or balconies — after the curfew hour, 8 o'clock in the country and 9 o'clock in towns, according to Aneta, official Netherlands News Agency. The Nazis continue to warn the people that Allied landings may soon be made along the Dutch coast.

Japanese Comments on Bombing

In telling the Japanese not to become "spiritually depressed" over the recent bombing attack on their home islands, one Japanese propagandist said, "We should not think that we have been passively attacked but that we have actively pulled the enemy toward us," according to a broadcast reported by U. S. government monitors.

Deaths

Mrs. Elizabeth Cheever Gautier, 80, widow of Thomas B. Gautier, a native of Albany, N. Y., passed away Tuesday afternoon at 5:10 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Smith, 107th Street, Virginia Beach.

CLARE BOOTHE LUCE

The speech by Congresswoman Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut before the Republican National Convention was so different from every other speech that it stands alone. It not only stands alone, it stands out as one of the classics of the year. No wonder that the convention serenaded her with a song, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart; I'm in Love With You." Mrs. Luce is the wife of the publisher of Life, Time and Fortune, which is a pretty fine thing to say about any woman. Aside from that, she is the most capable Congresswoman who has ever been elected to that office.

LET'S BUY 5TH WAR LOAN BONDS TO BOMB THE ENEMY, AND GIVE BALM TO OUR FIGHTING MEN!

What? No Telephones! New Service Extension Telephones SOME, for whom we have moved service, have learned that we could not give them the extension telephone they had at their old address. This is because of the Government order — a fair one under the circumstances — that only one instrument may be connected in a home. The purpose is to spread the use of existing instruments at a time when new ones are not being made for civilian use. SPEAKING for all telephone people, we don't like to say "No" or "We don't know when." We think we understand your disappointment when, moving into a new place, you find the previous tenant's instrument must be put back into the "pool" to fill an order ahead of yours, or when you ask how long you may have to wait, we are unable to tell you. But, so long as fighting men have first claim on telephone equipment and until the manufacture of it for civilian use can be resumed, we will have to keep on as best we can. Meanwhile, we genuinely appreciate the cooperation and understanding you have given us. *The War Production Board has announced proposals for the manufacture of a limited number of telephones. However, it will be necessary to repair and install machinery for this purpose, so it will be quite some time before deliveries of new telephones can start, and shortages of switchboard and outside wire capacity will still remain.

Hey, Chum! Wanna buy some nice fresh Reddy Kilowatts?

IT'S NOT likely that a shifty, fast-talking gent will ever side up to you with such an offer.

For the Electric Power that makes your housework short, and sweet, that makes your daily living more pleasant, that adds dozens of familiar conveniences to our American way of living... it is an American-bred, American-produced service. It isn't peddled or bootlegged, nor has it any Black Market... It's a servant that's yours to hire at the click of a switch!

Behind that dramatic fact lie years of work and foresight. An industry put together in peacetime to serve you and other Americans is also feeding a gigantic war machine that makes gluttonous demands. America's business-managed electric companies, such as the Virginia Electric and Power Company, are producing more electricity than Japan and Germany COMBINED, amply supplying our war effort while still providing all civilian needs as well.

Electricity not only keeps the lights burning in your home; it will help see to it that the lights of Freedom are kept burning, too.

Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed!

ATTENTION! ALL HOME CANNERS!

Before you begin your 1944 canning, Good Housekeeping Magazine advises you: use the boiling-water bath method for tomatoes and fruits only. Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulism germs. In the last few years, cases of botulism food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can acid vegetables any other way. 4-H CLUB HONORS

In 1909 Mr. Farrar organized the first 4-H Club work in Virginia, enrolling 100 boys in corn club work in Dinwiddie and Chesterfield Counties. The instruction given these boys was so good and the work done by them so thorough that they made an average of 65 bushels of corn per acre on farms where the average production had been only 17 bushels per acre. This was the beginning of club work with rural boys and girls in Virginia and the work has developed to approximately 1,500 community 4-H clubs with more than 40,000 members conducting projects in almost every phase of agriculture and home economics.

Mr. Farrar is known throughout Virginia as the Father of 4-H Club work. It is significant that he was the first to enroll 4-H club members in Virginia and that his last work as district agent, a few hours before his death, was attending an extension meeting where he helped plan the 4-H program for his territory.

Mr. Farrar was always recognized as an outstanding agricultural leader. His high ideals, and his moral and religious standards have left an imprint on the lives of his associates in the Extension Service, the rural people of Southside Virginia, and the boys and girls in 4-H Club work. Few people have contributed more to the development of agriculture and rural life than this distinguished Virginian. His high standards, his capable leadership, and his lovable nature endeared him to the hearts of the 4-H Club members and led them to honor him by naming this ship for him. As this ship is christened and rides the waves, may it ever carry with it the spirit of the man whose name it bears in its mission of rendering service to humanity. H. W. OZLIN, County Agent

MILKWEED — a "War Plant"
The Government wants 1,500,000 pounds of milkweed floss this year for life jackets. All of this floss must come from the wild stands inasmuch as milkweed has been considered a weed, and it takes three years to develop the plant a cultivated crop.

After years of being considered a pest, milkweed finds itself suddenly on the nation's priority list as a "war plant" because the floss in its pods contain can be used to replace war-scarce kapok.

Because of the need for milkweed floss the Department of Agriculture is asking that milkweed not be destroyed until the pods are harvested.

Milkweed pods will be collected in 38 states this year in order to provide milkweed floss for life jackets and aviators suits with a view-to replacing the kapok formerly used. Kapok is now controlled by the Japanese.

Schools, 4-H Clubs, boys' and girls' organization, educational groups and State and County War Boards are cooperating in the collection of milkweed pods.

Enough milkweed floss for 50 life jackets was turned in last year by students in an Indian school in northwest Utah.

Enough milkweed floss to supply a life jacket for every man and woman from the community who had entered the armed forces was the goal of one Michigan school last year. The children surpassed their goal.

The Government hopes to get a peak milkweed pod harvest from milkweed along roads and highways. The Public Roads Administration asked State and County highway commissioners to let milkweed grow until the pods are picked in order to get floss for needed life jackets.

It takes at least 800 pounds of milkweed pods to make a pound of milkweed floss.

In addition to its use in life jackets and aviators' suits, milkweed floss is used for thermal and acoustical insulation for aircraft.

Never enter a silo unless the circulation of fresh air is good. Otherwise it may be full of dangerous gas.

OCEANA SCHOOL TO HAVE NEW TWO STORY BRICK ADDITION

Princess Anne School Board To Receive $71,220 From Federal Funds.

P. W. Cox, Superintendent of public schools in Princess Anne County, announces that in the near future Oceana school will have an addition to its building. A two story brick fireproof and cinder block addition will provide for 10 more classrooms, a multi-purpose room and cafeteria facilities for elementary grade pupils. It will be connected with the main building by a corridor.

The project will be completed at an estimated cost of $111,220. Three weeks ago a Federal grant of $71,220, to the Princess Anne School Board, to help defray the cost of construction and equipment, was approved.

S/Sgt. George W. Barnes, son of Capt. T. J. Barnes, U. S. Coast Guard retired, and Mrs. Barnes, has been recommended for the Bronze Star for outstanding performance of duty under combat conditions.

While participating in the invasion of the coast of France Sgt. Barnes was one of the personnel who was thrown into the sea when the Dvka from the 11th F. A. Bn. sank and it is directly due to his efforts that 1st Lt. Joseph C. SStanell survived the mishap. After reaching the beach Sgt. Barnes performed his special duties efficiently under shell fire from the enemy, without hesitation and regard to his personal safety.

"Night Must Fall" Well Presented At Playhouse

"Night Must Fall" by Ennys Williams was presented by the Cullen Players on Tuesday evening in the new playhouse at Casino Park, under the direction of William Blair. This presentation swung from the light comedy of "Claudia," the previous play, to the dramatic scenes and tense moments of a murder mystery. Two additional members of the cast made their first appearance in this performance and added much by their professional characterization. T. C. Jones, as Terrence the hired man, gave an excellent performance and a definite addition to the already delightful cast. The introduction to Mildred Lee, as Nurse Libby, was brief but charming.

Time and space do not permit the extolling of the virtues of the individual members of the cast. Suffice to say it is a well chosen group of delightful and different personalities—each demonstrating his and her ability and versatility in presenting light comedy or tense drama.

If the forth coming high class plays are presented in like manner, the visitors and residents of Virginia Beach have in store for them a season of rare entertainment. Beginning Tuesday evening, July 25 through August 1, "Accent on Youth" will be presented by the same cast under the direction of William Blair.

CLAIM MUST BE FILED FOR SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

T. Bosworth Hulcher, Manager of the Norfolk office of the Social Security Board—today called attention to the fact that there may be people in this section who are losing payments of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance because they have not filed claim for benefits. Some of them are young widows of insured workers; some are the children of deceased workers and some are aged men or women. The Social Security Act requires that a claim must be filed before benefits are paid.

Mr. Hulcher stated that the Social Security Board stands ready to pay benefits to all those who qualify for payment, and anyone who has reason to believe that he or she is eligible for benefits should visit the nearest office of the Social Security Board. "No matter where you work or live, you're not very far from a Social Security Board field office or one of its part-time service points," he said. "If you work or live in this area, call, write, or visit the field office of the Social Security Board located in the Flatiron Building, Norfolk."

"IT HAPPENS EVERY DAY"

A wedding made possible by social security was reported to one of the field offices of the Social Security Board last month. The story was told by Mr. Hulcher, manager of the local office.

An attractive girls of twenty called at the office which had helped her mother file a claim for old-age and survivors insurance after the death of her father a short time before. She had come, she said, to tell about her marriage.

"I broke my engagement when father died," she explained. "I felt it wasn't fair to burden a man with a wife who had a family to take care of. Besides my mother, there were three younger children, all under fourteen, to support. Dad was only 40 when he died, and he hadn't been able to save much. He made a good salary but it takes a lot to support a family our size. I was the only person in the family who could earn. I couldn't leave them and I couldn't take them with me and expect my husband to support them."

Two weeks ago, my mother received a letter from the Social Security Board telling her that she would receive $74.22 a month in social security payments. That made the whole thing different. With this money and the life insurance father left, mother can manage now. Jim and I are going to (Continued on page four)

A Proclamation

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

WHEREAS it behooves this Nation gratefully to acknowledge its special dependence upon the skill and labor of its farmers in the gigantic task of waging war; and

WHEREAS the loss of life and limb by accident among our farming population has already reached an appalling figure, and the risks have lately been increased by longer hours of work and consequent fatigue; and

WHEREAS it is essential to our war effort that this waste of vital farm power be minimized in every possible way:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the Nation to observe the week commencing July 23, 1944, as National Farm Safety Week. And I request all persons and organizations concerned with agriculture and farm life to unite in an effort, during this National Farm Safety Week, to stimulate among farmers a full realization of the need for constant attention to the old and familiar precaution against the hazards of their calling, and also to awaken in them a sense of responsibility for the proper instruction in rules of safety of the many young and inexperienced persons now being employed on farms in all parts of the country.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this sixteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord Nineteen hundred and forty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-eighth.

SAVE FARM MANPOWER FOR WARPOWER

Approximately 18,000 people are killed and 1,500,000 are injured by accidents on farms each year. This toll includes work, home, motor vehicle and other public accidents. Loss every year through farm accidents—as many man-days as would be required to produce the average annual wheat crop of the United States. No other industry in our nation has been called on to perform more miracles in production than agriculture, therefore it is of the utmost importance to prevent losses of farm manpower and production due to accidents.

Princess Anne County Will Not Fail In Its Obligation

Hiteshaw Elected President Of Civic League

The Civic League of Oceana held a meeting in the school auditorium on July 12.

The meeting was called for the purpose of electing a president and discussing affairs of a civic nature. Leonard Hiteshaw was elected president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Butt, past president. Feeling the need of further police protection a committee consisting of E. E. Service Unit An Integral Part In U. S. Army Life

Civilians are acquainted with the various branches of the armed services: Air Corps, Signal Corps, Coast Artillery, Field Artillery, Infantry, etc. But how many of them know of the Station Complement, the administration agency in every army post. Invariably they act bemused and befuddled when they try to account for an officer or enlisted man that has duty in such an unit. They look upon it as a "goldbrick outfit" that simply has to sit out for the duration and six.

That their information is vague and founded on rumor is the chief reason for their beliefs and an indictment of their premises. It would be well to expound on the functions and services of the Station Complement in this war.

The 1328th Service Unit, Camp Pendleton, Va., is a typical Station Complement under the jurisdiction of the Third Service Command. Its job is to operate Camp Pendleton. Like a large city the camp has a city manager in its commanding officer, a city hall in its headquarters; we have houses, roads, lawns, water works, and a sewerage system; we have a theatre, dance hall, ball park, playgrounds, bowling alleys; we operate food stores, clothing stores, general stores and restaurants; we have a police force, fire department and sanitation department; we have courts, newspaper, clinics, post office and a church—everything found in a city. The officers and enlisted men who operate this military city compose

Lions and Rotarians Asked To Help The Quota Over The Top

Princess Anne County is lagging badly in meeting its quota in the sale of E Bonds in the Fifth War Loan Drive, and this must be made up between now and July 31st, or we will have failed in meeting our obligations. Our Quota in E Bonds is $325,000. To date we have sold $211,668.75. The deficiency is $113,331.25. The Boys on every battle front are giving you the security you enjoy. What will you do?

"Tonight when we go home to our family, let us think of the men who will never go home, the men who gave their lives that we might live. Too, let us think of the men who gave their eyes, arms and legs in the fight for freedom. As we sit at home, knowing that in more than two years of war not a single enemy plane has threatened our life, let us think of the men who have made that security possible. And then, if we do not determine to do our full share in the 5th War Loan then maybe no appeal can reach our hearts. Men are dying while we are making up our minds. Let us face the problem. The tough stage of the war is here—it is 1944 America! This year men are not thinking of attacking the enemy on the bloody invasion fronts. They are doing it now—and it is costing a lot of them their lives. Let us think of this hard when we are thinking of doubling our bond purchases during the Fifth War Loan Drive. Let us think of the tired, maimed, the captured and the dying. Then we will stop thinking and start buying."

Lions and Rotarians Asked to Help

At a joint meeting of the Lions and the Rotary Clubs of Virginia Beach held Thursday evening at the Pinewood Hotel members of both organizations were asked to underwrite the deficit in quota of the 5th War Loan. Either by personally purchasing more bonds or securing the purchase elsewhere, Virginia has exceeded its quota however Virginia cannot be considered as "over the top" until the State has exceeded its quota of E Bonds and for all bonds to individuals, in which it is now lagging. July 31 is the deadline for the 5th War Loan. Princess Anne County has its share of the great responsibility.

London Bridge Baptists Have New Pastor

Mr. Stone comes from the Schoolfield Baptist Church where he served as pastor for nine years. London Bridge Church expects to progress with rapid strides under his leadership, stated a member of the church.

The Station Complement. Each man plays an important part in the smooth functioning of all utilities and participating in the war effort as the army calls upon him.

These men have not escaped front line duty through any Machiavellian manipulations. Because most of them do not meet strict requirements for overseas duty, they are detailed to jobs most compatible with the army's needs. They are not ornamental soldiers used for dress parades and military side-shows. They are not excess baggage to be carried on rosters to fill Tables of Organization. They are men who are vitally employed in Station Complements—men who house, supply, feed and ship overseas our fighting men.

There are many branches in the army, but the 1328th Service Unit represents them all. All branches that boast of specialists in each branch. The Service Unit is an integral part of this man's army and a potent factor in the victorious knock-blow being dealt the enemy.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU SAY

Spoken opinions have a very far reaching effect and merit deep consideration. Astute politicians who make our laws have very sensitive ears attuned to the voice of the people. Public opinion is recognized as one of the greatest forces in the world and every public utterance of public affairs should be weighed in the balance carefully with the realization that with each expression of opinion a vote is cast which might have far reaching effect. It is our glorious privilege to speak our minds freely. It is our duty to think twice before voicing an opinion.

POLITICAL PLATFORMS

Political party platforms of 1944 must not be accepted too readily. The Democratic and Republican conventions of 1944 will do about the same kind of "charting" as to be found in the Roosevelt and Churchill Atlantic Charter — and that is nine-tenths visionary. David Hinshaw in his recent article published in The New York Times Sunday Magazine catalogues platforms as "merely historical documents." He says that they do not represent bad faith on the part of the major parties and the candidates, but collectively these political platforms may be best classified as "mosaics designed by practical political experts to give the least offense to any vocal group of voters while at the same time they attempt to win the support of either large voter groups or hold their party members in line." Nevertheless, he finds that most party platform-makers do too much "pussyfooting through a maze of issues," and use too many "weasel words" in stating the party issues.

A casual examination of the present Republican platform does not indicate that it is intended to be the last word in regard to Western hemisphere relations, post-war or domestic policies, security, labor, the tariff, relations between business and industry, taxation, or other problems and issues.

As a matter of fact, the platform of the Democratic party in the last 12 years haven't furnished as much as an index to the system of government which followed through three terms.

In his very interesting review of party platforms Mr. Hinshaw finds that any political philosopher who will take the trouble to examine platforms of political parties for the past 100 years will reach the conclusion that "these works of our forebears seem like a graveyard of dead issues." Apparently they all "point with pride and view with alarm" but nevertheless, "despite their evasion, have a place in the Democratic scheme."

The average voter nowadays is "good radio voices" to point out the depending upon the press, and way to go, and decide upon which ballot to cast in the coming election. All of which, summed up, appears to indicate that the political platforms of June and July, 1944, will rapidly descend into the lower class than the "mosaics," as "de worl" do move and awful fast," and political experts can't keep up.

A learned judge has ruled that journalism is not a profession, the jurist is correct.

BEHIND THE BATTLEFRONTS

Australia Uses Italian Prisoners Italian prisoners of war are doing a good job in Australia's rural areas — in local factories and on government farms — and there is a steady demand for all who may be available for work, the Australian News and Information Bureau reports. In the United States also, prisoners of war work on farms.

Pens Sell for $200 in China Best-grade A160 to $200 and wrist watches for $500 in Southwest China during a period of speculative activity, according to the Department of Commerce. In the United States, such inflation is prevented by the price control program of the Office of Price Administration.

Danes to Assist Allies Danes are being instructed on how they may help Allied invaders. The United Nations Information office says. Every Dane is urged to prepare equipment, work clothes, heavy shoes, his bicycle and first aid supplies. He is to train himself in judging distances and in finding his way in unknown areas.

Czech Workers Disappear A number of young Czechs "suddenly disappeared" from their jobs in German factories and are believed to be fleeing Germany in order to join Czechoslovak fighting forces, the Czechoslovak Information Services say.

Canada Fourth in Air Strength With more than 206,000 airmen in the RCAF, Canada holds fourth place in the air strengths of the United Nations and fifth in the world, the Canadian War-time Information Board reports. The pre-war strength of the RCAF was 4,000.

Dutch Planes Fly Vaccines Dutch planes in Great Britain are flying anti-bubonic plague vaccines to Naples, Aneta, the official Netherlands News Agency reports.

Canadian Producers Label Shoes Footwear produced in Canada must be marked with the name of the manufacturer or the license number issued to him by the War-time Prices and Trade Board, the Department of Commerce reports. This regulation safeguards the public against lowering of quality. Argentina Send Verbal Messages The "Fonopostal" service in Argentina enables persons to send recorded messages or greetings for 20 to 25 cents, the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs says. The sender may record his verbal message in a specially-designed booth at post offices having "Fonopostal" or "Fonopost" facilities, or, for an additional fee, he may have recording apparatus brought to his home.

As Others See It

TRIBUTE FROM AFAR

Nashville Banner So seldom does the South receive either recognition or commendation beyond its boundaries; so constantly it is subjected to criticism by the "liberal" elements looking down their noses while speaking through their teeth, it is a pleasure to me and a reprint a compliment paid it by the New York Herald-Tribune, which says in part:

"The South's viewpoint of world affairs is possibly more enlightened than that of many equal areas in the North. Its population is largely native to the soil, its blood strains are few and its reaction to the coming of World War II was instant and never in doubt. Resistance to tyrants came naturally to men of Southern upbringing, and willingness to fight for liberty and against aggression has been part of their history since Jamestown. There are few isolationists among Southern statesmen, and they, for the most part, are considered alien to their heritage and are held in considerable disesteem."

That is a kinder view, and, we submit, a truer view, than those of the strange persuasion that advertised in word and in deed that they considered the South "the nation's No. 1 economic problem child," or a political step child. The contrast between views is the more remarkable considering the South's province as a cradle and charter member of the political organism to which holders of the latter view attached themselves preliminarily to their proprietary breast-beating.

The South's viewpoint on world affairs is enlightened and exemplary; predicted on a love of liberty and a hatred of tyranny. Its viewpoint on national affairs is likewise enlightened, and fixed on those fundamentals which only fidelity to those fundamentals can preserve. It used to exert an influence in that behalf through the party structure it sired, but the prodigal in-laws for whom it killed many a fatted calf left it bound and gagged. Fighting for the world with an exceptionally "enlightened viewpoint" it eats at second table in its own home, a third or fourth when company comes.

THE PRESIDENCY

J. E. Jones Washington, D. C.—It seems very clear to people in Washington that the coming Presidential campaign will resolve itself around the conduct of the war, the New Deal, the "indispensable man," or the "inevitable man"—meaning Roosevelt or Dewey.

The supporters of the Administration insist that there must not be any change in the Presidency because of the danger of "changing that" to be done.

horses" in the middle of the stream. The Republicans are already trying to prove that there are no war issues, and that Republicans and Democrats share the same opinions about carrying on the war to Victory.

To what extent the issues fail to balance is anybody's guess. The Democrats insist that there should not be any change at the White House. The New Deal is unpopular, but there is a question whether the dissatisfaction is widespread enough for the Democrats to lose the election.

So the argument goes—one the porches of homes and in places where all kinds of people meet in Washington. Out of every gathering either large or small, there is a clash of opinion. Which means that the people in Washington don't know any more about what's going to happen than the people "back home"—in those homes everywhere, between the two oceans, and the northern and southern boundaries of the Nation.

A practical joke is particularly dangerous around farm machinery. Save your energies for the job that's to be done.

The snapping mechanism of the corn picker machine is one of the many farm hazards. Don't pick stalks out from the rolls while the machine is running.

Planning to make money and getting it into your bank account are two very different undertakings.

Soldiers in the front lines must find it strange to read about some of the complaints on the home front.

nerve centers

The man pictured above does not drive locomotives, but from his Centralized Traffic Control board, he sets signals and switches and controls the movement of all trains on a section of railroad as far away as 87 miles. He is a fast thinking Norfolk and Western train dispatcher, speeding vital wartime traffic. In the same office is another dispatcher who controls the movement of trains 165 miles away.

The top panel of the control board is a miniature of the dispatcher's section of railroad. Small red lights, flashing on and off, show him the location and progress of every train on the 87 miles of track he controls. He twists a lever . . . and miles away, a switch is set, a signal changes . . . a train moves into a siding for another train to pass. He flips another lever . . . and the train passes out to the main line and is on its way. From this "C. T. C." board, the dispatcher controls 44 switches and 143 signals, thus dispatching trains swiftly and safely over long distances without written train orders. His job is no guess work. The track—in miniature—is there in front of him. His machine is fool proof, for switches and signals are so interlocked that it is impossible to show conflicting signals. Switches and signals will not follow the lever control unless the train movements can be made safely.

Automatic signals, which keep speeding trains safe distances from each other; interlocking plants, operated in congested districts, and Centralized Traffic Control systems make it possible for the Norfolk and Western to move a tremendous volume of wartime traffic—the greatest load in this railroad's history—faster and with maximum safety.

The modern signal system on the Norfolk and Western is the result of years of study and the application of the most improved signal apparatus which has been developed. This study is continuous. It is being made today, as always, with the purpose of constantly improving the system so that trains can be operated at higher speeds with less delay and greater safety.

Norfolk and Western train dispatchers and their fellow workers of this railroad's Signal Department can well be proud of their job and the signal apparatus with which they work, because they are helping to speed the nation's fighters and their fighting equipment safely to destination—and certain Victory.

The Office of Defense Transportation has made the following statement: "An increase in civilian travel during the summer months will seriously interfere with winning the war—unless your trip is urgent, please stay at home."

Theatre Prevues

"COBRA WOMAN" will be the screen attraction at the Bayne Theatre Friday, July 21 and Saturday the 22. This great pagan sensation in Technicolor will feature Maris Montez, Jon Hall, Sabu and Edgar Barrier in the leading roles.

Sunday and Monday Anne Baxter, William Eythe and Michael O'Shea will be starred in "THE EVE OF ST. MARK." This is one of the best films yet dealing with the change of civilians into soldiers, it bears a lesson that it is hoped will have the desired effect on the populace. Covering only an early portion of our part in World War II, the transition of Maxwell Anderson's stage hit into the screen version is topnotch. Acting, dialogue, etc., rank with the best.

"THE WHITE CLIFFS OF DOVER" starring Irene Dunne, Alan Marshal, Frank Morgan and Roddy McDowall will come to the Bayne on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. This is a powerful love story which spans the years of World War I and World War II.

At the Roland Theatre "SAILOR'S HOLIDAY" will be featured on Friday and Saturday, July 21 and 22. Arthur Lake, Jane Lawrence and Bob Haymes are cast in the leading roles. This is a hilarious comedy featuring three sailors from the Merchant Marines.

Sunday and Monday Ann Harding, Evelyn Keyes, Anita Louise and Jinx Falkenburg will be seen in "NINE GIRLS."

The story deals with nine beautiful girls in a snowbound lodge where LOVE walked hand in hand with MURDER.

The final offering for the week will be a double feature. "HARI KARI PEOPLE" starring Merle Oberon and Charles Boyer and a western, William Boyd in "MYSTERY MAN". The latter is the best in the "Hopalong" series.

SAFETY ON THE FARM

Although much care has been given to increasing the safety of farm tractor operation, many lives are lost every year, and many more persons are injured through accidents in which these machines are involved. Inexperienced emergency farm workers should be doubly certain they "know how" before operating any tractor.

Sometimes a tractor operator, after sitting for hours, drives standing up to relax his muscles. An inexperienced farm emergency worker may find this practice hazardous. A quick, sharp, unexpected jolt may throw him off the tractor, perhaps in front of the wheel or ahead of the machine being pulled.

Manufacturing auto fuel from coal has proven successful though expensive in this country.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

I don't blame the fellows overseas, a g. tin' all het up over it. Judge. For the likes of me I can't see what's all the hurry 'bout holdin' these local prohibition elections while they're away.

"I agree with you, Steve. Time after time... in their letters, in articles, in polis taken to get the views of our fighting men... they have indicated in unmistakable terms that they don't want any action taken on prohibition, either local or national, until they get back.

"Too bad there isn't a law or something' to be sure their wishes are carried out, Judge."

"There is in one state I know of, Steve. Just recently it passed a law prohibiting the calling of any prohibition election until a year after the peace is declared."

"That really makes sense to me, Judge."

ODT ISSUES ORDER DIRECTING TRANSPORTATION OF FARM PRODUCTS

In a move to expedite the steady flow of farm products from areas of production to points of destination, the Office of Defense Transportation has authorized and urged producers, carriers and handlers of farm products to establish Industry Transportation Advisory Committees. These committees will assist the district offices of the ODT in putting to full use all motor trucks available for transportation of farm products in this area so that no farm products will be lost because of lack of transportation.

It was explained the dairy products are not included among the farm products affected by the order since they are covered by Administrative Order No. 19.

Fertilizer Restrictions Eased

Farmers may fertilize their general crops with as many pounds of fertilizer as recommended by the "appropriate State experiment station" or at the rate customarily used in the area, whichever is greater, the War Food Administration says. WFA has eliminated restrictions on acquisition and use of organic nitrogenous fertilizer materials such as tankage, fish scrap, bonemeal, processed manure, peat and humus. Restrictions remain on edible oil-seed meals.

Mr. Hulcher explained that the $74.22 a month is considerably more than most of the payments now being made under Federal old-age and survivors insurance. "There are many cases, however," he said, "where the survivors benefit paid on one worker's social security account will total between $5,000 and $10,000. The total amount depends on the length of time the insured worker was employed in jobs covered by this Government insurance system, the amount of earnings from such jobs, and the number of his dependents."

VIRGINIA WEEKLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT

The beneficial effects of the rains of the past two weeks are now being reflected in improved crop prospects according to the current weekly survey made by the U. S. Weather Bureau, County Agents of the Extension Division and the Crop Reporting Service. For the State as a whole, reported corn condition shows an improvement of 8 percentage points over the outlook a week earlier; peanuts are up 4 points, soybeans 7, lespeades 10, alfalfa 1 point, tobacco 2 and pasture 6 points. This improvement, although varying in degree in the different areas, was general except for a few Valley and Southwestern Virginia sections. In spite of this, however, crop prospects have not improved as much as they have declined since July 1.

Blacksburg, July 27—Effective July 20 types of farm machinery subject to rationing were reduced from 31 to 19, the State AAA Office announced. Eight types of non-rationed equipment were released from distribution regulations.

Electric Irons Coming in Fall
Of the 2,037,838 electric irons already authorized for civilian production about 99 per cent will be household models, mostly automatic, and the remainder, commercial models, WPB says. The irons will not be rationed and some of them are expected to be available in the fall.

New Non-Highway Gas Coupons
New, non-highway, serially numbered gasoline coupons, E-2 and R-2, are now being issued in strips to farmers and other non-highway users, OPA has announced. The new coupons will be good concurrently with the E-1 and R-1 coupons now in circulation. The five-gallon R-2 coupons are printed in blue ink, and the one-gallon E-2 coupons, in black ink. While neither of the new coupons is good for highway use, the E-2 specifically carries the legend: "Not good for obtaining gasoline to propel registered vehicle."

Electric irons should be available around September, the War Production Board says.

NEWS OF OUR MEN—WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Sammy W. Rowland
Mrs. F. S. Royter, Jr. has just received word from her son, Sammy Rowland who is serving with the 82nd division Paratroopers "Some where in England." The letter was written July 15 after he had returned from a 38 day mission in the big invasion of June 6. His division did not go to Cherbourg but south and southwest to Hill 131, 95 and 121. His word picture of devastated France and its people was most graphic as was the description of the fighting in the sector where his division was located. As to the French people Sammy wrote: "Of course, these past four years they've had nothing. I only saw the old and very young—the rest must be working in Germany. I saw towns without a house left standing—the result of our bombing and artillery, but they (the people) still gave us a smile. As one man said, 'We have nothing, yet we have everything. We have freedom.' Many times the French told us of German positions and distribution. You've really no idea how surprised and ruined they've been; words cannot describe it."

Fisher Brothers Meet in France

Sgt. M. J. Fisher, with Chemical Warfare outfit and Cpl. A. L. Fisher, Jr., with Combat Engineers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fisher, 16th street, are now both stationed in France. For five months the brothers were stationed in England but circumstances did not permit their getting together. Both were transferred to French territory, neither knowing where to locate the other. Several weeks ago their trucks passed on the road close enough for recognition. Since that day the brothers have been in constant contact with each other. Before entering the service Sgt. Fisher was associated with his father at the Fuel, Feed and Building Supplies Corp. and Cpl. Fisher was employed at the Norfolk Navy Yard.

C. L. TOLER

He will undergo a training period from three to seven months at one of the U. S. Maritime Service Training Stations. Upon successful completion of this course he will be qualified to serve on a merchant vessel in the department for which he was trained.

WINS AIR MEDAL;
"FIGHTING FOR DAD"

The coveted Air Medal has been awarded to Lieut. William E. Hannan, of Virginia Beach, according to information released by the War Department. He is a pilot with a B-24 Liberator Bomber Group in Italy.

Lieutenant Hannan is the son of Mrs. M. C. Hannan, of Fifty-first street, Virginia Beach, and the late Michael C. Hannan, a native of Norfolk who spent many years in Youngstown, Ohio, where he owned and operated one of the city's leading hotels.

Lieutenant Hannan had told his father before the latter's death that he would "make the grade."

In a letter to his mother, he said: "Whatever I've done, it has been for dad's sake."

He is a nephew of William A. Hannan, Jr., of New York and Norfolk, and James Hannan, of Norfolk.

VOLLEY BALL LEAGUE OPENS SEASON WITH TWO GAMES

Jake Lowenberg and W. K. Dau referee First Games In Race for League Title

During the past week two well played games ushered in the 1944 season of the Virginia Beach Volley Ball League. According to league rules games are played with five players on each side, which in the opinion of many people creates a faster game than when more players are used.

The roster of players that participated in the opening games are as follows: Pinewood—Charles Gay, Jr., Frank Woodhouse, Woody Denger, Charles Gay, Sr., and Pat Hebert. Greenwood—Gilbert Taylor, Leon Acree, Bub Bayne, Paul Albano, Bill Patton, and Fred Bayne. Gay Manor—Fred Jordan, Gardner Harden, Edgar Gunst, Buddy West, and Bobby Fanney.

On Saturday July 22nd on the Pinewood Court, the Greenwood successfully began the defense of its championship title by winning the opening game from the Pinewood with two straight sets by the scores of 21-11, 21-15.

Monday July 24th on the Gay Manor Court, the Pinewood moved into second place in the league standings by winning a hard fought game from a surprisingly strong Gay Manor team by the scores of 21-9, 21-12, and 21-4.

The league standings after the first two games shows the following record:

League Standings	Won	Lost	Pct.
Greenwood	1	0	1.000
Pinewood	1	1	.500
V.B.P. Lifeguards	0	2	.000

Fall Fatal To Hotel Guest

Martin Luther Harman, 39, member of a prominent family in Tazewell, died Thursday at 8:58 p. m. in De Paul Hospital of injuries received Wednesday about 2:40 a. m. when he fell accidentally from a two-story window at the Princess Anne hotel, where he was vacationing with his wife and small son.

Chief Clarence E. Hoback, of the Virginia Beach police, said the department was notified by hotel personnel at 2:50 a. m. and that Dr. W. L. Beach Shops Get Warning From OPA

Jewelry and gift-shop operators who are not complying with the OPA regulations at the end of 15 days will be referred to the OPA legal officials, warned William C. Parkinson, district enforcement attorney, and Fred Swaffan, district price specialist, at a recent meeting with the operators.

A number of the 25 dealers were said to have been found to be in violation on several counts even though they have had two years in which to learn and abide by the regulations, which were explained at the meeting.

County to Bear Expense of Hospitalization For Indigent Tuberculosis patients

Indigent tuberculosis patients in Princess Anne County recommended for hospitalization by the Princess Anne County Tuberculosis Association and the county welfare department will receive hospital treatment at the expense of the county, M. C. Mansfield, chairman of the county board of supervisors, has announced.

This decision was reached Monday afternoon at a board of supervisors meeting attended by a delegation from the Tuberculosis Association, which met that afternoon also. Dr. E. W. Langs, Princess Anne County public health commissioner, spokesman for the delegation, urged that the board assume responsibility for the hospitalization which would lead to more rapid eradication of the disease, so that the tuberculosis association might devote additional funds to the promotion of health education, X-ray clinics, surveys, rehabilitation, and preventive measures.

Details for the plan, which will become effective immediately have not been worked out, but it is expected that Mrs. Helen W. Reid, of the county welfare department, will investigate the proposed cases requiring hospital care and make recommendation to the board of supervisors.

Under the auspices of the Princess Anne County Tuberculosis Association a chest X-ray survey will be conducted in the county for men and women over 15 years of age. The survey will take place from November 6 through November 20 with X-rays being given free of charge at the Princess Anne Courthouse school, Bayside school and at Virginia Beach, the place to be announced later. This survey will be similar to that held last March in Norfolk, where 4,000 persons received free chest X-rays.

Mrs. Robert B. Taylor, of Virginia Beach, has been appointed chairman of the survey planning committee by Mrs. Rufus Parks, chairman of the sponsoring association. Also on the committee are Mrs. R. G. Barr, Mrs. Willard R. Ashburn, and Mrs. Edward Hardy, all of Virginia Beach.

Lions and Rotarians Aid in Final Bond Drive Push-Over

Committee members for the 5th War Loan Drive are making a last desperate effort to reach the goal in "E" Bonds. Saturday night, July 29 is the dead line and the quota is not assured. Members of the Lions Club and the Rotarians at a joint meeting Tuesday evening pledged themselves to be responsible for $2,000 per member, to either buy or sell that amount. Several have reached the individual goal as the NEWS goes to press.

The mighty invasion which has now begun is a call to every man, woman and child for a self-invasion of their pocket-books, bank accounts and other sources for investment in mere bonds.

Last Sunday morning T-4 Frank A. Helfferich, Jr., from Fairview, N. J., a member of Capt. Boraczek's unit of Lt. Col. Foster's Command, saved two girls from drowning at Virginia Beach. A strong undertow had carried the girls, neither of whom could swim, out beyond their depth. Luckily, their cries for help reached Sgt. Helfferich who was relaxing on the beach and he rushed to the rescue.

The girls were struggling and clinging to each other when he reached them, but he soon had the situation under control. Keeping a cool head and using his life saving knowledge Sgt. Helfferich succeeded in bringing both girls back to shallow water. Upon reaching the beach they were taken to the Coast Guard Station where they were given medical treatment.

State War Board Sponsors Series County Meetings

Blacksburg, July 27—In the period August 7-16 agencies represented on the Virginia U. S. D. A. War Board will sponsor a series of agricultural meetings in each county in the state as a follow-up of the series held in January to acquaint farmers with production goals for 1944 and discuss methods of meeting them, the State War Board announced.

Representatives of agencies that are members of the Virginia War Board will assist with the program. The purpose will be to give current information on the agricultural situation, crop and livestock production and marketing, the need for more winter cover crops, and to discuss other matters pertaining to the production and marketing program.

In Princess Anne County the meeting will be held on August 11.

Study To Be Made Of All Public Schools

During the past few months the public schools system of Virginia has come in for a great deal of criticism and in many instances adverse publicity. A commission has been appointed to conduct a public hearing in Suffolk on August 18 to an improvement of the Public School System of the State. William M. Birdsong, prominent Suffolk business man and attorney has been appointed chairman of the commission.

The Suffolk hearing, which will be held in the auditorium of the Suffolk High School, is one of a series of nine in different sections of the State, all under the auspices of the Commission conducting an overall "grass roots" survey of the school system, but with local schoolmen and committees in entire charge of the public hearings to which all interested citizens of the surrounding area are not only invited, but urged to attend. All members of the Commission will be in attendance.

The School Study Commission was brought into being by the 1944 General Assembly through a Senate Joint Resolution offered by Senator Stephens of Isle of Wight. This called for a thorough and complete study of the system of public free schools in Virginia. Carrying out these instructions the Commission has scheduled nine public hearings to find out just what the people of the State think of their schools and what ideas they have concerning the improvement which should be made in them.

In addition to the hearings the Commission has appointed fifteen special committees to make individual studies of each phase of the school system. Serving on these various groups are a number of citizens from the Tidewater area including John Alfriend, president of the National Bank of Commerce of Norfolk, on the Teacher Salary committee; Judge Herbert G. Cochran of Norfolk on the Compulsory Education committee; Mrs. Berry D. Willis of Norfolk on the Home and School committee; and John Twoby of Norfolk on the Plant and Equipment committee.

The Suffolk hearing, which will embrace the entire Tidewater area will be the last of the nine hearings which will begin in Richmond on August 8th.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

JAMES C. LATIMER

The death of James C. Latimer in Richmond last week brought to a close the career of one of Virginia's best known newspapermen. Born in Cannontown, Ohio, in 1876 Mr. Latimer started his earliest newspaper work in Elizabethtown, Tenn. His outstanding and well remembered work was the eighteen years of service as secretary of the Virginia Press Association and preparing and publishing the Virginia Newspaper Directory and Market Information. As enrolling clerk of the House of Delegates he served through the closing of the 1944 session.

James Latimer's manner was always that of a courteous gentleman. He will be greatly missed where he served so well.

RICHMONDERS TO PAY FOR SERVICEMEN'S CALLS

"Thousands of Richmonders, young and old, have arranged things so that 5,000 or more wounded service men will be able to call the homefolks without cost when they reach the Army's McGuire General Hospital here from overseas."

A fund for that purpose, being collected by the News-Leader with out any active solicitations, has reached $15,053, five weeks after it was started.

The above gesture is most commendable and patriotic on the part of Richmonders and the News-Leaders, however it does look as though the telephone company, now operated by the government, could will afford to GIVE these boys, who have offered their all, the three minute privilege to talk to their families without accepting public contributions for this service.

Never before in the history of the telephone company has the number of "pay calls" been at such an all time high as the present, surely the telephone company could afford a few hours each day in an act of patriotism and by this gesture show a real appreciation for the sacrifice of the wounded service men brought back to this country to begin life anew with many handicaps and disappointments to face.

THE ALTAR OF SACRIFICE

by Ruth Taylor

When I went into the great church on Fifth Avenue, where I go to pray for the solution of any problem that harasses me, it was early of D-Day. Even then I was not alone in the Gothic stillness. Worshippers were before me, kneeling in silent prayer.

I looked up at the great stained glass window that glowed with living blue as the morning sun struck it. It seemed like a promise of the eternal beauty of a earned peace.

As I knelt, there came to me the realization of a fact I had not fully sensed. To see the promise of beauty and peace—I had to look across the altar of sacrifice.

So it was on D-Day. So it is today. The altar of sacrifice is not always an altar of marble. It may be—it is, in many homes—the altar of the human heart, giving sadly but freely its most cherished possessions.

Only as we are willing to sacrifice ourselves for the right can that right prevail. Our boys overseas are giving their all for us on a belief that tyranny, oppression,

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKern

If awards were given to the most dangerous fictional woman of the year, Ben Ames Williams would surely win the prize for his creation of Ellen, in his novel, "Leave Her to Heaven."

BEN AMES WILLIAMS

Ellen is a girl whom all wise men would do well to avoid, but they don't do it. She's pretty and witty and charming—when she wants to be. But when she loves anyone, she must own them, and her jealousy knows no bounds.

She resents it when her novelist husband spends time at his writing desk, as a result of which there are no more novels. But that's not the half of it. Her fury rises to a high peak at his tender affection for his crippled younger brother Danny, and she doesn't rest until she has talked the lad into taking a swim across the lake, too much for his feeble strength. Her jealousy turns toward her foster-sister Ruth next, and the vengeance she plans for her is diabolical beyond belief. Read it for yourself if you would know more.

"Leave Her to Heaven" is pretty sure to be a popular novel, and has already been bought by the motion pictures.

In his book, "Heaven Below" E. H. Clayton, an American missionary, describes some of the methods used by the Chinese underground in occupied Hangchow. Once he happened to see a Chinese engaged in the job of pasting up Japanese propaganda posters. "Aren't you very ashamed of yourself?" asked the American. "No," the Chinese replied. "You see, I put the posters up in the afternoon and get paid for them. I earn my living that way. Then I tear them all down at night. That's my real job."

"Basic History of the United States" by Charles and Mary Beard has been set aside by the Book-of-the-Month Club as a future book-dividend for subscribers.

Girls were scarce in North Africa, says Bob Hope in "I Never Left Home," and the few there were had a big rush. But there was one the boys didn't go for. This was a dame named Sally who broadcast to our troops from Germany. Sally would say things like: "What are you boys fighting for anyway? The 4Fs at home are running around with our sweethearts and wives while you think you're defending your country? From what?" Sally would have been surprised at how the boys received her little pep talks, says Mr. Hope. "They listened quietly. Then someone would get up to walk out and spit on the radio as he went by."

persecution are denials of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man in which—no matter what their creed—they all believe. They are not divided by creed. They are not separated by class, or national background. They are just our boys fighting for us and for our way of life—that creed of democracy which holds that all men are created equal and are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights—to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

They are giving their all—their futures, their hopes, their dreams, their lives. Those who come back will not be the same for they will have passed through the refiner's fire. They will have become so accustomed to death, that it will be hard for them to face life. They will have laid their youth as a sacrifice upon the altar.

It is for us rather who remain at home to see that that sacrifice is not in vain—that beyond the altar may be built the mosaic of beauty—the deep blue of peace, the clear rose of a world free from war—a mosaic through which the sun may ever freely shine.

Let us pray as we all did on D-Day. Let us also resolve in our hearts that this time the sacrifice will not be in vain.

DO YOU REMEMBER This article is addressed to those over forty—to those who remember the last war.

I realized when I went to church early on the morning of D-Day how many there are who remember. My fellow worshippers were all of my own age. I felt a close kinship with them because of the reminiscent look on their faces.

They, too, were remembering. Remembering the cost of war in human lives. The South Pacific—Africa—these are but places on the map to those of us who still think in terms of distances. But the battlefields of France are within our ken. The names of the towns in today's papers are like stations on our way home. This we are going through is no new thing. It is something we know and remember.

"I have a rendezvous with Death." We remember that cry of youth. We remember the long, black bordered casualty lists that meant the double death of those who went West and to grieving hearts at home.

France will always be part of America because of the dead that lie in French soil—soil hallowed anew by the bodies of those who were or should have been their sons.

Mexico Produces Penicillin Mexico now has four penicillin laboratories, all of which plan to produce several million units of penicillin a day, the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs reports. Mexico recently purchased 3,500,000 units of penicillin from the U. S. Part of this supply will be used in hospitals and the remainder will be placed on sale.

G. I. Joe is going to get more gasoline.

After July 25 all service men on furlough will get a gallon of gas a day, up to 30 days, rather than the 5 gallons flat, per furlough, allowed previously.

Office of Price Administration officials said the increased furlough allotment is designed to aid the fighter spending a week or more at home and, at the same time, reducing slightly the gasoline allotment of those on frequent 3 or 4 day week-end furloughs.

Determination is all right if you are not the victim of it.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words.

Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.

This title is simply:

"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

"Good Soldier"

Good soldiers...

"The Hour Before the Dawn," adapted from Somerset Maugham's dramatic novel, is a story of England in the first days of the present war. The spotlight is focused on Franchot Tone whose peace-loving principles prevent him from bearing arms when the call to colors is sounded.

The savage portrait of a dangerous, ruthless beauty—who came from a shadowy past to bring devastation into the lives of every man who dared to love her!

At the Roland Theatre the first offering for Friday and Saturday will be "Hey Rookie" starring Ann Miller, Larry Parks and Joe Besser.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mary and I were just saying, Judge, how lucky we are here in America that we have so many natural resources to help win the war."
"That's right, Jim. When war broke out we had oil, we had steel, we had food, lumber, aluminum...practically everything we needed. There's one thing we didn't have...rubber. The enemy had that."
"But that didn't bother us for long. Soon American brains and industry had synthetic rubber by the tons rolling out of plants. That filled a critical need...you can't win a war without rubber."

"I was very much interested the other day in reading a statement made by a high government official on synthetic rubber. In it he said 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.'"
"He also said that, in his estimation, the tremendous contribution of distillers' industrial alcohol to the synthetic rubber program had not received the recognition which it deserves."
"We certainly learned something today, didn't we Mary?"

UNCLE SAM RULES THE SHIP OWNERS

The Maritime War Emergency Board has reaffirmed and reasserted its authority and jurisdiction to adjust war risk bonuses for merchant seamen. The Board has served notice on the steamship industry that the existing war regulations governing war risk payments, which become effective April 1, 1944, will remain in full force.

Occupational gasoline ration for periods up to 30 days may be issued an applicant who has not formed a car pool, OPA says, and if at the end of this period the ration board is not satisfied that the applicant has done his best to obtain riders, further occupational mileage will be denied.
